

The Client

A Fortune 100 Communications Company

The Problem

A fortune 100 company which was stockpiling old electronics, including data storage media, at one of their facilities for over the last decade needed a solution to clear out the storage space and properly destroy their data.

The Solution

USH India Recycle Pvt Ltd team came in within ten days of receiving notice of the project with a full on-site team which spent 3 weeks on location, took inventory of all the assets, palletized the assets, shipped the assets to the nearest USH India Recycle Pvt Ltd facility, and then remarketed the items which were resellable while destroying and responsibly recycling the rest.

USH India Recycle Pvt Ltd spent 3 weeks on-site inventorying and breaking down electronics

USH India Recycle Pvt Ltd handled the entire project from start to finish without any resources from the client

USH India Recycle Pvt Ltd removed 5 full truckloads of electronics for remarketing and destruction

The entire process was handled by USH India Recycle Pvt Ltd without any intervention by the client. In fact, the client trusted USH India Recycle Pvt Ltd so much, they provided USH India Recycle Pvt Ltd with unrestricted access and access cards to their entire building without direct supervision. This process included inventory, logistics, sorting, resale, and destruction. The electronics consisted of everything imaginable – ranging from power supplies and servers to laptops and tablets to loose hard drives and even some old cassette based media storage devices – and USH India Recycle Pvt Ltd was able to handle the entire project from start to finish in about a month's time.

USH India Recycle Pvt Ltd took a total of 5 truckloads of electronics out of this facility, which were routed to the nearest USH India Recycle Pvt Ltd facility in Texas. Since the company had been sitting on these assets for so long, about 70% of them were at end of life and could not be resold simply due to their age. However, USH India Recycle Pvt Ltd was able to remarket about 30% of the electronics, helping the client maximize the value of their assets and cover some of the costs of the cleanout program.

All in all, this client was extremely happy with the process, and continues to be a long term client of USH India Recycle Pvt Ltd.